Commentary

We are an accredited centre for NCFE, SITO and BIIAB, and have already trained in excess of 2,000 candidates for this award.

The 'National Certificate for Door Supervisors' is the only qualification recognised by the Security industry Authority for England and Wales. In addition recent information from the SIA suggests that this qualification is also recognised as meeting the requirements for security guarding. Coupled with changes to England and Wales licensing laws, it is a mandatory training requirement for all who work within a supervisory vetting role in the licensed trade.
